Wolf Pack™

Introducing the two finest naval simulations in history.

This visually stunning, highly realistic simulation lets you experience the real excitement and tensions of World War II naval combat — from both sides. It will satisfy the most discriminating simulation game buff, as well as anybody who loves fast-paced combat action. It's the autumn of 1942. German submarine wolf packs stalk the Allied convoy routes. You are the Escort Commander, and your ship is a mighty U.S. Naval destroyer, equipped with the latest Allied breakthroughs in SONAR, RADAR and weaponry. Or switch roles and you're the wily Nazi U-boat commander. Play against your computer or your friend. More than just a deadly battle game, this is an authentic simulation of World War II naval warfare — depicted with stunning VGA graphics. Comes with many combat scenarios, plus a construction set that lets you make up your own.

Wings of Fury™

Blaze your way to glory in the proud tradition of fighter pilots of the past.

Take off from a WWII carrier and pilot your Hellcat fighter-bomber through Pacific skies. Your mission is to destroy all enemy ships and island installations in your carrier area. Use your joystick to strafe, dive bomb, and dogfight. But watch out! The farther away you get from your carrier, the more hostile and skillful the resistance becomes. Brilliant graphics feature smoke pouring from damaged planes, bullets ripping into the sea, and more! Each stop for refueling and repairs requires a precarious landing on your carrier's postage stamp of a flight deck! This is not just a great flying game — it's a realistic, action-packed adventure.

"Wings of Fury's really a challenge...And to put yourself in the cockpit of the aircraft, it's really a fantasy role!"

Where in Europe is Carmen Sandiego?™

Carmen strikes again! This time in Europe.

There won't be a stone left at Stonehenge! Or a gondola left in Venice! In this adventure, Carmen is going after the treasures of Europe. It's your job to stop her. You'll travel through all 34 European nations. And you'll encounter colorful sights and sounds in each of them, including animation that brings Europe to life. An on-screen graphic travel map keeps you oriented at all times, and makes it easy to plot your course across the Continent. As you follow Carmen, you'll learn lots about European geography, culture and history. A new on-line Database provides additional facts on European nations. And a computerized Crimestopper's Notebook keeps track of clues to the culprit's identity. Use it to record the goods on each culprit to help make sure you get the right arrest warrant. Includes Rand McNally® Concise Atlas of Europe, detective guide and user's manual. For sleuths of all ages.

The Ancient Art of War®

The world's greatest generals send you an armed invitation.

How would you personally like to lead an army into battle against the great Genghis Khan? Or try to outfox that master military strategist, Alexander the Great? Now you can pit your own intelligence and skills against seven of the most brilliant military minds in history. The Ancient Art of War lets you plan and carry out military campaigns right down to the last detail... while your enemy conducts an historically authentic campaign against you.

Choose your own armies, weapons, battle formations. Then begin making your decisions — to attack the enemy directly, cut off his supply lines, or take him by surprise. When you think you're ready, try challenging the legendary Sun Tzu, the ancient Chinese general who literally wrote the book on war. Or use The Game Generator to create your own military campaigns from scratch. It will be an experience you won't soon forget.

The Ancient Art of War at Sea™

If you think fighting on land is a challenge...

The waves are pounding against your ship, you're getting your weapons ready for battle, when suddenly — attack on the starboard side! As you send your men racing to their battle stations, you'll be planning your defensive strategy with lightning speed.

Your enemy: any one of five of the world's most brilliant naval commanders, including the bloodthirsty pirate Blackbeard, the "Yankee Pirate" John Paul Jones, and the legendary Admiral Lord Nelson. Your mission: to sink his ships before he sinks yours.

The Ancient Art of War at Sea combines real-time excitement with the intellectual challenge of leading a navy into victory on the high seas. You can zoom in to take command of individual ships and lead the boarding parties as you engage in hand-to-hand combat on enemy "territory." Choose from 11 classic campaigns, or use the Game Generator to create your own.

"We wanted to do a war game based on real tactics and strategies. So we did a ton of research and found Sun Tzu's book. It was written 2500 years ago — Genghis Khan and Napoleon studied it. Usually, people think the way to win is to destroy the enemy. Not so. Actually, the winning strategy is to get the enemy in a position to surrender. We worked 16 and 17 hours a day out in the woods in Washington...but it's all paid off. We get phone calls and letters every day from players. They're incredibly loyal and involved."

Play air hockey with the scum of the galaxy!

The Shufflepuck Cafe. It's the sleaziest dive you've ever seen, but you've got to use the phone. So you stumble through its dingy entrance into the last air hockey game in the galaxy. All that lies between you and the phone are eight alien misfits, an obsolete droid, and a few "friendly" games of shufflepuck. But, hey — relax! If you lose, they'll only have contempt for you. Win, and they'll just resent you. Each alien has its own unique style of play, including how it serves, hits the puck, plays your hits, and what it says to you during the game. If you beat them all, the droid who's keeping score puts your name on a plaque behind the bar. At last there's an arcade game that's perfect for everyone. . . .so easy to play but so hard to master!

"Here was a game I could play that was actually related to my work. It's exciting when your city prospers, or falls upon hard times due to your own mismanagement. It involves a lot of strategy, but it's easy and fun to play."

The Playroom™

In The Playroom, everything your child touches comes alive with fun and learning!

The Playroom is very special learning software for kids from preschool to early elementary. It's a fun world of games, toys and surprises. Your child starts by selecting any toy in The Playroom, and it springs to life with animation and sound. Some selections lead to activities in reading or math readiness, others with creativity, and some lead to just plain fun. Multiple levels accommodate different skill levels and age groups, and even the youngest child can control the program completely. Pepper Mouse is your child's guide to many of the activities, and there's even a cute little Pepper Mouse toy right in the package! A special Parent's Guide is also included. Open up The Playroom for your kids. You'll enhance their creativity and thinking skills, while providing them with a fun environment they'll love to play in.
